II. Return as of December 2015

Return in US dollars was -0.31% in December. This return was due to negative performance of Inflation Indexed Sov. Bonds, Corporate Bonds, and equities which returned -1.95%, -0.42%, and -1.83%, respectively, offset in part by the positive return of the Sovereign and Government Related Bonds of 0.77%. All fixed income portfolios were negatively affected by interest rate hikes in almost all the economies in which the fund is invested. For the Sovereign and Government Related Bonds gains from the appreciation of the euro and yen against the dollar were stronger than the interest rate effect resulting in a positive return for that portfolio. The negative return for Corporate Bonds was also due to an increase of the corporate spreads during December. Return in Chilean pesos was -1.05% in December mainly because of an appreciation of the peso against the dollar. Cumulative return during the year totaled -3.62% in US dollars and 12.84% in Chilean pesos. The 12 months negative return in US dollars is explained mainly by the depreciation of main currencies where the fund is invested against the US dollar. Annualized return since inception was 3.14% in US dollars and 6.28% in Chilean pesos.

(a) Time Weighted Return (it is calculated as the growth rate of the funds that were invested throughout the period).

(b) It is calculated from March 31, 2007, when the performance of Central Bank of Chile started to be measured.

(c) Return in CLP corresponds to the sum of the percentage change of the exchange rate CLP/USD and the return in USD.

Returns for periods of more than one year are compound annualized rates while those for less than a year correspond to the change as seen in the stated period. With a view to meeting high standards of transparency and providing a better assessment of the gains or losses on investments, the Ministry of Finance discloses the fund's return in different time horizons and currencies. With respect to the horizon, it is important to note that, in keeping with the medium- and longterm investment policy, the return assessment should focus on that period, disregarding fluctuations that may occur monthly or quarterly. With regard to returns expressed in different currencies, the return in US dollars allows for an assessment which is more in line with the investment policy given that the fund's resources are wholly invested abroad and in foreign currency. The return in Chilean pesos is also disclosed. This return reflects changes in the peso-dollar exchange rate and, therefore, may experience greater fluctuations. Finally, as with any investment, returns obtained in the past do not guarantee future positive results.
