II. Return as of September 2016

Return in US dollars was 0.46% in September. This result was due to the performance of Sovereign and Government Related Bonds, 0.74%, Inflation Indexed Sovereign Bonds, 0.10%, Corporate Bonds, -0.04%, and Equities, 0.68%. During the month there were uneven movements in the medium and long-term sovereign interest rates of the main economies where the fund is invested, having fallen in Germany, Japan and United States, and raised in the United Kingdom. The effect of currency movements was positive for Sovereign and Government Related Bonds and Corporate Bonds, with both having higher returns in US dollars than in local currency. In the case of Inflation Indexed Sovereign Bonds, currency effects were negative due to a higher exposure to the British Pound, which depreciated against the US dollar. The return of the Corporate Bonds portfolio was also affected by an increase in corporate spreads. Equities' performance was positive in local currency and in US dollars. Return in Chilean pesos was -1.63% in September because of a depreciation of 2.09% of the US dollar against the peso. Year to date return was 10.10% in US dollars and 3.27% in pesos, while annualized return since inception was 3.94% in US dollars and 6.07% in Chilean pesos.

(a) Time Weighted Return (it is calculated as the growth rate of the funds that were invested throughout the period).

(b) It is calculated from March 31, 2007, when the performance of Central Bank of Chile started to be measured.

(c) Return in CLP corresponds to the sum of the percentage change of the exchange rate CLP/USD and the return in USD.

Returns for periods of more than one year are compound annualized rates while those for less than a year correspond to the change as seen in the stated period. With a view to meeting high standards of transparency and providing a better assessment of the gains or losses on investments, the Ministry of Finance discloses the fund's return in different time horizons and currencies. With respect to the horizon, it is important to note that, in keeping with the medium- and longterm investment policy, the return assessment should focus on that period, disregarding fluctuations that may occur monthly or quarterly. With regard to returns expressed in different currencies, the return in US dollars allows for an assessment which is more in line with the investment policy given that the fund's resources are wholly invested abroad and in foreign currency. The return in Chilean pesos is also disclosed. This return reflects changes in the peso-dollar exchange rate and, therefore, may experience greater fluctuations. Finally, as with any investment, returns obtained in the past do not guarantee future positive results.
